Dear Prof. Allison,
Thank you for the letter and the proposal for PM Ehud Barak.
He is honored and willing to take the challenge.
A good time for him (and I remember you mentioned it is good for the school as well) will be in September - October 2016, when the school sessions start.
I have set a meeting between Ehud Barak and Daniel Sobelman in New York this coming Friday (November 27).
thanks,
all the best
Nili Priell Barak

MEMORANDUM

I'd like to follow up on the conversation we had about your joining us for an extended visit next year. As you may know, the Harvard Belfer Center and the Kennedy School has recently hosted several former Heads of State, including Australian Prime Minister Kevin Rudd, Mexican President Felipe Calderon, and Finnish President Tarja Halonon.

How proud we would be to have you join their ranks! We are very flexible on timing (when you come and how long you can stay), depending on your schedule, but usually best when school is in session. If you can stay for a month or even a few weeks, we can arrange for you to teach a student study group, speak at various events at Harvard and the Boston area and participate as much as you like in our seminars and lunches. Of course, we would be delighted if Nili can join you. We generally provide expenses (travel, lodging, and an honorarium).

If you are interested, please let me know and we will work with Daniel Sobelman on the details.

Best.
